

When I decided to buy an investment property a few months ago, I started looking around myself, but soon realized I was totally out of my depth. I was a total novice in terms of knowledge about the property market. So out of the handful of Buyer's Agents I reached out to, Fred was the one who stood out as being the most sincere, experienced and professional.

His industry knowledge is second to none. He gives you the feeling that he cares and proves it in his actions, often going above and beyond what he is supposed to do in providing invaluable advice.

Fred helped me find the property that I wanted at a price that was much better than I had anticipated paying. The effort he went to in researching and visiting many properties to find me the right one was very impressive. He always worked around my work and time restrictions. He definitely provides value for the money spent. He is very thorough and very responsive at all times.

I sincerely couldn't recommend PS4U more and will definitely buy my next property with them.
